

John Mettille
Kentucky Transportation Cabinet

John L. Mettille, Jr. is the Chief Environmental Program Administrator for the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet in Frankfort, Kentucky. The Cabinet has employed John for over twenty-seven years, working primarily in the area of NEPA compliance. Over the past six years he has been championing the cause of environmental leadership, the culture change of the Cabinet, commitment delivery the CAP, and Context Sensitive Solutions. Through these efforts John has enabled the Cabinet to redefine its project delivery process, increase environmental sensitivity, use creative public outreach and involvement and make all partners aware of expectations and commitments. John is also involved in environmental and project delivery policy development and environmental stewardship assurance. John has a BS in Political Science and Geography from University Wisconsin-LaCrosse and an MA in Urban and Transportation Geography with a planning emphasis from Kansas State University.

John received the 2003 AASHTO President's Transportation Award for the Environment in recognition for his efforts nationally and in Kentucky to change the manner in which we deliver projects, our business culture, and engage the public.
