

Douglas Kelleher
VHB / Vanasse Hangen Brustlin

Doug Kelleher is a Senior Preservation Planner with VHB/Vanasse Hangen Brustlin, a leading environmental and engineering consulting firm based in Massachusetts with offices throughout New England and the east coast. Doug manages VHB's Preservation Planning and Cultural Resource Compliance practice area, which provides services to a variety of public and private sector clients, including state department of transportations, public and private colleges and universities, and private developers.

Prior to joining VHB, Doug worked in the Planning and Environmental Divisions of the Massachusetts Highway Department where he was involved in developing several context-sensitive design initiatives and securing Section 106 project clearances for highway and bridge construction projects. His previous experience also includes several years as a preservation planner at the Massachusetts Historical Commission, the State Historic Preservation office for Massachusetts. Doug is a graduate of the Roger Williams University Historic Preservation Planning program and currently serves on the Board of Directors for Preservation Mass., the statewide preservation advocacy organization in Massachusetts.

Elaine Stiles
VHB / Vanasse Hangen Brustlin

Elaine Stiles is a Preservation Planner and Architectural Historian with the transportation, land development, and environmental services firm Vanasse Hangen Brustlin, Inc. in Watertown, MA. Before joining VHB, she worked as a senior historian at Preservation Company, a preservation consulting firm in Kensington, NH. Elaine earned her MA in Preservation Studies from Boston University and a BA in Art History from Smith College.

